Living Library Discussion Guide – IAO Treaty Speakers
Educator Guide for Grade 8 History

Pre-Activity – The Numbered Treaties
In this activity students will develop their understanding of the expansion of Canada, between 1867 and 1906. Students will read a series of maps that show territorial expansion and a map that shows the Numbered Treaties. Students will review how to read a map and then answer some guiding questions to help them gain an understanding of Canada’s territorial growth. Students will also conduct an investigation into a specific Numbered Treaty and through a group share back make some comparisons between the treaties.

Learning Goals/Success Criteria
We are learning to use the concept of Historical Significance as we learn about the Numbered Treaties and Canada’s expansion.

Success Criteria:
• I can determine the importance of people, events/developments or ideas using credible primary and secondary sources as evidence;
• I can explain how various people, events/developments or ideas help us understand the past and present.

We are learning to gather and organize data, evidence, and information as a focus for historical inquiry.

Success Criteria:
• I can collect relevant information from a variety of primary and secondary sources;
• I can organize information from sources using a variety of graphic organizers.

We are learning to interpret and analyse data, evidence and information as a focus for historical inquiry.

Success Criteria:
• I can identify the key points or ideas in an issue;
• I can use different types of graphic organizers to help me interpret and analyse my evidence, data and/or information.
Learning Skills and Global Competencies

Collaboration: responds positively to the ideas, opinions and values and traditions of others.
Ask yourself: Did I respond in a good way to other people’s ideas and suggestions?

Independent Work: uses class time appropriately to complete task; independently monitors, assesses and revises plans to complete tasks and meet goals.
Ask yourself: Did I feel rushed to complete this task? Did I have enough time to read over my work before I shared it with the class?

Expectations:

Overall Expectations:

A2. Inquiry: use the historical inquiry process to investigate perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada between 1850 and 1890 (FOCUS ON: Historical Significance; Historical Perspective)

A3. Understanding Historical Context: describe various significant people, events, and developments in Canada between 1850 and 1890, including the Indian Act, treaties between Indigenous nations and the Crown, and the residential school system, and explain their impact (FOCUS ON: Historical Significance; Cause and Consequence)

Specific Expectations:

A2.2 gather and organize information and evidence about perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada during this period, using a variety of primary sources;

A2.4 analyse and construct maps as part of their investigations into some significant events, developments, and/or issues in Canada during this period, with a focus on exploring their spatial boundaries Canada

A2.5 interpret and analyse information and evidence relevant to their investigations, using a variety of tools;

A3.2 describe key political and legal developments that affected First Nations, Métis, and Inuit people during this period, including treaties, government policies, and the Indian Act and other legislation and explain some of their short- and long-term consequences
Minds on: Reading Maps

Whole Class – Reading Maps to make Inferences
Students will have a collection of maps that show the growth of Canada from 1867 to 1905. Maps can be found at:

- Library and Archives Canada
- The Atlas of Canada

Note: If this is one of the first times that your students are reading maps in your class it may be helpful to model how to use the Reading Maps Strategy, see Appendix A, and lead a guided reading of this collection of maps.

You can lead a class discussion by having students respond to the questions, that are listed below, as a class or you may want to have these questions on the board and have students in groups answer the questions first. Then have a whole class discussion based on the groups’ responses.

Questions to Guide Reading of Maps:

- What pattern do you observe as you read these maps?
- What might be the reasons behind this pattern?
- Who is leading this change?
- What groups may be impacted by this change?
- Are there any groups of people who are being affected by this change and are not part of the discussion around these changes?
- How might you feel if this was happening and you were not being consulted?

Action: The Numbered Treaties

Group Work: Reading the Numbered Treaties Map
Students will be given a copy of a map that shows the Numbered Treaties.

A Numbered Treaties map can be found at Indigenous and Northern Affairs

In small groups students will read this map and write down some observations and comparisons to the expansion maps they have read. Some guiding questions for students are:

- What pattern do you observe as you read this map?
- How does this pattern compare to the expansion maps you read?
- Why might the government have felt that it was so important to secure this land?
Group Work: Investigation

In groups students will investigate one of the Numbered Treaties that are listed on the timeline below. Students will read the actual text of the treaty and then organize their information on a 5W 1H Graphic Organizer.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

Students will find transcribed copies of the treaties at Indigenous and Northern Affairs on the Treaty Text page.

Whole Class: Share Back

Once all groups have completed their 5W 1H Graphic Organizer students will participate in a share back, this can be done either in new groups or back to the whole class.

Consolidation: Similarities/Differences

Students will take the information they have learned about the Numbered Treaties and fill out a “3 2 1 Exit Card”.

Speaker Activity – Question Prompts for Students

In this activity students will have the opportunity to hear a guest speaker discuss the importance of treaties. Upon the completion of and/or during the presentation, students should be processing the information being discussed and should be thinking about questions to reflect upon and/or pose when the opportunity arises.

Expectations:

Overall Expectations:
A2. Inquiry: use the historical inquiry process to investigate perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada between 1850 and 1890 (FOCUS ON: Historical Significance; Historical Perspective)

Specific Expectations:
A2.1 formulate questions to guide investigations into perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada between 1850 and 1890.

Minds on:
Students will have the opportunity to create a list of questions pertaining to treaties and land claims. This brainstorm can be done in small groups, or as a class. Some of these questions might include:

- What treaties cover the area I live in?
- What rights and responsibilities are detailed in the treaty that covers my area?
- Are there any land claims in my area?
- As an individual what are my treaty responsibilities?
- What actions can I take to ensure I am upholding my treaty responsibilities?
- What role does the government play as treaty signatories and in land claims?
- How can I create awareness of treaties and/or land claims in my area?

Action:
Speaker will present for 30-60min on the topic of treaties and land claims.

Consolidation:
During the presentation students should be actively listening to the speaker and reflecting on the information being presented. When the presentation is complete students will have the opportunity to pose questions. Please refer to the Minds on activity (detailed above) for a list of potential questions that students might pose.
Post-Activity– Persuasive Paragraph
In this post-activity students will use the concept of Historical Significance when they write a persuasive paragraph answering the focus question: In what ways have governments in Canada, since 1867, not lived up to the spirit and intent of the Treaties? Students will use the 4C Graphic Organiser to jot down the ideas that support their opinion. Students will use the information they learned in the pre-activity and from the guest speaker to support their ideas.

Learning Goals/Success Criteria
We are learning to apply Historical Significance as we write a persuasive paragraph on the spirit and intent of treaties.

Success Criteria:
- I can determine the importance of people, events/developments or ideas using credible primary and secondary sources as evidence
- I can explain how various people, events/developments or ideas help us understand the past and present
- I can assess the impact of people, events/developments or ideas in the past and on the present
- I can evaluate how the importance of people, events/developments or ideas may shift for various people and over time

We are learning to gather and organize data, evidence, and information as a focus for historical inquiry.

Success Criteria:
- I can collect relevant information from a variety of primary and secondary sources;
- I can organize information from sources using a variety of graphic organizers.

We are learning to interpret and analyse data, evidence and information as a focus for historical inquiry.

Success Criteria:
- I can identify the key points or ideas in an issue;
- I can use different types of graphic organizers to help me interpret and analyse my evidence, data and/or information.
We are learning to evaluate and synthesize information and evidence to make judgements and conclusions

Success Criteria:
- I can make a decision about an issue and defend it with logical arguments
- I can support my opinions with data, evidence and/or information
- I can make predictions based on my data, evidence and/or information

We are learning to communicate judgements, decisions, conclusions and action plans clearly and logically

Success Criteria:
- I can sequence my ideas to build an argument, plan of action or judgement
- I can use Historical terms and concepts correctly and effectively

Learning Skills and Global Competencies

Collaboration: responds positively to the ideas, opinions and values and traditions of others.

Ask yourself: Did I respond in a good way to other people’s ideas and suggestions?

Independent Work: uses class time appropriately to complete task; independently monitors, assesses and revises plans to complete tasks and meet goals.

Ask yourself: Did I feel rushed to complete this task? Did I have enough time to read over my work before I submitted it?

Expectations:

Overall Expectations:

A2. Inquiry: use the historical inquiry process to investigate perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada between 1850 and 1890 (FOCUS ON: Historical Significance; Historical Perspective)

A3. Understanding Historical Context: describe various significant people, events, and developments in Canada between 1850 and 1890, including the Indian Act, treaties between Indigenous nations and the Crown, and the residential school system, and explain their impact (FOCUS ON: Historical Significance; Cause and Consequence)

Specific Expectations:

A2.2 gather and organize information and evidence about perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues that affected Canada and/or people in Canada during this period, using a variety of primary sources;
A2.4 analyse and construct maps as part of their investigations into some significant events, developments, and/or issues in Canada during this period, with a focus on exploring their spatial boundaries;

A2.5 interpret and analyse information and evidence relevant to their investigations, using a variety of tools;

A2.6 evaluate evidence and draw conclusions about perspectives of different groups and communities, including First Nations, Métis, and/or Inuit communities, on some significant events, developments, and/or issues in Canada during this period;

A2.7 communicate the results of their inquiries using appropriate vocabulary;

A3.1 identify factors contributing to some key events or developments that occurred in and/or affected Canada between 1850 and 1890 and explain the historical significance of some of these events for different individuals, groups, and/or communities, including First Nations, Métis, and Inuit individuals and/or communities;

A3.2 describe key political and legal developments that affected First Nations, Métis, and Inuit people during this period, including treaties, government policies, and the Indian Act and other legislation and explain some of their short- and long-term consequences;

Minds On:

Collaborative Brainstorming
After the students have listened to the speaker they will work in small groups to brainstorm some of the key ideas and points they heard. This is a good activity to show how it is important to listen to what other people heard during a presentation. It means that as a group a bigger picture of the presentation is recorded.

After all groups have had time to brainstorm allow time for all students to walk around the room and read the collaborative brainstorms. Students may then choose to add more detail to their own groups brainstorm sheet. Keep all sheets posted around the room so students have the ability to refer to them when they begin to plan a course of action.
Action - Guided Discussion

Class Discussion: Spirit and Intent of Treaties
Have the class watch this video of AFN National Chief Phil Fontaine:

In this video Chief Fontaine speaks on the spirit and intent of the treaties that were between First Nations and the Crown/Canadian government:

Lead a class discussion around these questions:
- What do you think Chief Fontaine means when he shares his thoughts on the spirit and intent of the treaties?
- How is it possible to have different interpretations of these treaties?

Consolidation: Persuasive Paragraph
Students will write a persuasive paragraph that presents their opinion on this question: In what ways have governments in Canada, since 1867, not lived up to the spirit and intent of the Treaties? They will use the information they have learned in class as well as from the guest speaker to support their opinion.

Students will use a 4C Graphic Organizer, see Appendix B, to jot down their ideas for the paragraph. If this is the first time students have written a persuasive paragraph you may want them to just fill out the organizer so that you can provide them with feedback. If they have written persuasive paragraphs and used the 4C Graphic Organizer before you can ask for both the paragraph and the organizer.

Students will hand in their persuasive paragraph or the 4C Graphic Organizer. If this is the first time students have used this form of writing please provide them with feedback on how they used information to support their ideas.
