A series of Adobe Connect web conferences is being offered for educators responsible for the literacy learning of students. You are invited to attend sessions either individually or as a group with colleagues. Note that, by request, this series is a repeat of the series that was offered in winter/spring 2015.

Please register here.

Supporting Struggling Adolescent Readers, Three-Part Series
Grades 7-12

This three-part series will provide opportunities for discussion and learning about how classroom educators can support students in grade 7-12 classrooms who struggle with reading. Specifically, participants will investigate what it really means when teachers say ‘my students can’t read’, and explore various factors that are involved in the reading process (e.g., decoding, fluency, comprehension, reader identity). As a three-part series, the learning builds from one session to another so it is recommended that registrants participate in all three sessions.

Part 1
March 7, 2016  3:30 - 4:30 pm EST
March 10, 2016  9 am - 10 am EST (For participants who would not require release time)
4:30 pm – 5:30 pm EST

Part 2
March 29, 2016  3:30 - 4:30 pm EST
March 30, 2016  9 am - 10 am EST (For participants who would not require release time)
4:30 pm – 5:30 pm EST

Part 3
April 18, 2016  3:30 - 4:30 pm EST
April 19, 2016  9 am - 10 am EST (For participants who would not require release time)
4:30 pm – 5:30 pm EST

Required Equipment and Materials for All Participants:
- a computer with hard-wired internet connection (wireless internet might impair the experience of the Adobe Connect session)
- a built in or separate microphone
- session handouts (will be emailed in advance to all participants)

Additional Required Equipment If You are Participating as a Team:
- a data projector and speakers

Note:
- Each Adobe Connect session can accommodate up to 25 connections.
- For teams who may be participating in the session, please register one key communicator.